Bothwell Cheese

Wins First Place "Three-Peat" at Prestigious British Empire Cheese Show

Bothwell Cheese has again been awarded the first place trophy in the marble cheddar class at the prestigious 81st Annual British Empire Cheese Show.

This is three years in a row the Manitoba-based cheese maker has taken first place with its Marble Cheddar; it was also awarded third place this year for its Monterey Jack.

"The British Empire Cheese Show is one of the most highly regarded international cheese competitions in Canada," says Bothwell Cheese President & CEO Ivan Balenovic. "This award once again highlights the extraordinary talent of our skilled cheese makers who put extra care into every cheese they make. It's owing to their hard work and dedication that our Marble Cheddar is the best – and has been acknowledged as such for the past three years."

The British Empire Cheese Show has a long and distinguished history. Since 1927, cheese makers from around the world have entered the competition, hoping to win one of its highly coveted awards. Billed as Canada's largest display of Canadian & International Cheese, the show is presented by the Central Ontario Cheese Makers Association.
